

Historic Education

Welcome to the Historical Education Page. The point of this page is to teach and inform the residents of Providence about the history of our wonderful home.

Managed by the Historic Preservation Commission

The Limestone Quarry

From the beginning the community of Providence looked to the hills for the necessities of life:

Logs for Cabins, Fences, Fires, and Railroad ties; Rocks for Homes and Chapels.

Read More

Providence Sauerkraut

Over the years, certain smells have been familiar to the people of Providence...

Read More

The Utah-Idaho Central Railroad: Northern Utah's Interurban Experience

The Utah-Idaho Central Railroad: Northern Utah's Interurban Experience is complete and published live on Utah State University's online collection of digital exhibits. Please click here to view the exhibit.

Read More

The Canals of Providence City

The Canals of Providence City exhibit explores the history of the canals which have carried water to Providence City, Utah, since its founding in 1859.

Read More

The Forgotten Fruitway: Folk Perspectives on Fruit Farming on the Providence Bench 1940-1980

The Forgotten Fruitway: Folk Perspectives on Fruit Farming on the Providence Bench 1940 – 1980 by Amy C. Maxwell, Utah State University is a thesis that explores fruit production in Providence City, especially on the north and south benches.

Read More

Oral Histories

Hear from one of Providence's many residents who called Providence home and what it was like to live here.

Read More

Historic Photos

See what Providence used to look like and some of its main businesses.

Read More

Commemorative Plaques

Eight commemorative plaques offer brief glimpses into Providence City's past. The plaques are placed throughout the City and we've provided a brief summary and location for each.

Read More

Historic Home Walking Tour

Eighteen historic buildings are highlighted in A Stroll Through History, Walking Tour of Providence City.

Read More

Pictures of Providence and Events

Read More

Education

Establishment of the first school in Providence.

Read More

Providence Cemetery

The first cemetery in Providence was located at the south end of First West street, in a plot owned in 1948 by Eldon Janes family which later became the site of Cherrywood subdivision. Probably the first person to be buried here was Magdalene Theurer, who died the day of her birth, December 23,...

Read More

The Forgotten Fruit Way

From the 1920s Providence bench was well know as an area full of orchards and small fruit farms.

Read More

Farming the Life Blood of the Settlement

With each family entering the valley in 1859, came their family cow, their oxen to pull the wagons and plow the fields, their sheep for clothing, their horses to ride, their swine for meat, and tucked away in a crate in the back of the wagon the family flock of chickens.

Read More